

Miss Black Texas USA 2012 Megan Holston

Southern belle Megan Holston captured the Miss Black Texas USA 2012 title on Sunday, November 13, 2011. The Alabama native is a second year Master's student at the University of Houston. With a concentration in Sociology, she will graduate in May 2012. She plans to continue her education by earning her PhD to eventually work with minorities and Middle Eastern families. During her reign, she will promote her platform entitled "Losing to Win" through a multilevel program to improve children's physical health, where children are encourage to eat right and exercise; emotional health, to help children deal with stress related issues; and academic health, to help children focus on their education. She credits her alma matter Clark Atlanta University for a lot of who she is today. In her spare time she enjoys reading fictional novels and traveling to new cities. She is a member of the Alpha Kappa Delta Sociology Honor Society, Golden Key Honor Society, and Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc.